THE NEW and INTERESTING GAME of UNCLE TOM and LITTLE EVA, price 25 cents. The interest which one may take in this Game is considerable, and the more it is played the greater the desire for it. It is simple, and can be easily understood, at the same time there is a finish to its simplicity that makes it the most pleasing and desirable Game of the Seasom for all persons. The execution of the outs, which are colored, representing the characters in UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, are beyond all censure. They are life-like and expressive.

For the workmanship displayed in getting up this Game, for the pleasing and endless enjoyment one may derive in its study, and for the extraordinary low price at which it is offered, stamps it the Game of the season.

All orders from the trade, and by merchants from the country, for the above, will be promptly attended to by GEO. H. BELL, Stationer, No. 158 Nassau-st., N.

present productions, which deserves and will have a wide derivation.

The friends of freedom can render us better serves to the cause than to circulate the book. It is beautifully printed and disstrated, and costs only a dollar.

A straightforward marrative of vasced, thrilling, and starting adventures, leads rou through were place of the alternanals system of American tyranny, with your indignation fired and your blood boding with strictment.

This is the autobiography of a Virginian whose blood was not altogether pure from African descent though without the external indications of any such admixture. The narrative inspices a deep interest.

It is a work which will tell on the soul of the reader.

About the genus of "The Cabin and Parlor" there is no mistake. It will not fail to draw tears even from eyes unused to weeping.

[Roston Post.]

About the genus of "The Coho and Farint there is no matter.

It will not fail to draw tears even from eyes unseed to weaping.

Calculated to create an exoterment as great as that of "Usele Tem's Coho." The plot is even better discreted.

Replete with incidents of thrilling power. Well conserved, ship narrated.

A more truthful and affecting series of massicity pretars never posited by pen of pencal. As choused a write as Management of the fair more last.

There is a great marrative and descriptive power in its work, and is true extra that it excels all trushs.

Far superior to "Uncle Tom" in real ment, which is a light interest.

A more faithful exhibition of the relations between owner and since cannot be found.

A more faithful entires cannot be found.
